MISSISSIPPI SEAFOOD DATA PREPARED FOR FORTHCOMING SESSION

Legislature—Statistics Prepared by Seafood Commission—Industry is Big—Co-Operation WPA Acknowledged—Helped to Upbuild Industry.

Statistics compiled by officials of the Mississippi Seafood Commission and presented to the Mississippi State legislature as its biennial report from October 1, 1935 to June 30, 1937, as to the amount of oysters taken from the Mississippi reefs, together with the revenues and expenses, show interesting facts, during which period receipts amounted to $45,098.43 and expenditures of $36,768.56.

The records show tax on 1,266,338 barrels of oysters was $31,489.43; privilege licenses $12,983.50; fines collected, $400; refunds, $26.30 and proceeds from a boat sale, $100.

During the period 384,887 barrels of oysters and shells were planted under the direction of the commission over an area of 7,400 acres, the work in this period have been productive of great results. The Mississippi Seafood Commission is continually making improvement for the development of the oyster industry so that adjoining states will not have to be called upon for oysters.

During the season of 1935-36, 126,078 barrels of oysters were taken from the Mississippi reefs and 220,909 barrels in the 1935-36 season, showing an increase of 104,831 barrels or 41.6 per cent over the previous year. Excellent cooperation was given by the WPA in the upbuilding of the reefs in securing federal funds for the upbuilding of the reefs, and that by rigid enforcement of the regulations regarding the operation of the oyster seasons, excellent results have been obtained. Excellent cooperation has also been shown between the packers and fishermen, much of which caused the upbuilding of the industry and distribution of large sums of money.

There is an urgent call for containers, and all people interested in the general welfare of the cause, either a parent with children eating in the lunch rooms or as a sponsor. The call is, please bring every fruit jar you can secure, to the lunch room, so the managers will be prepared to start canning as the apples are delivered.

Everyone realizes the great undertaking the school lunch project is, and how necessary it is to solicit the interest and co-operation of every person in the county in order that Hancock county school children may receive in fullest measure advantages of the project.

Approximately 13,000 lunches per month are being served over the county area. The question is, have you helped in any way? If not, do all now possible in helping to put over the project in the most worthwhile manner.

HOMECOMING DAY AT STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, NOV. 13.

Reminiscing of Other Days—College of Yesterday and Today—Program.

President J. B. George, in announcing further plans for Homecoming Day, November 13, at State Teachers College, said: "I am cordially inviting every student who has ever attended this institution to be with us at State Teachers College on November 13. It gives me great pleasure to designate as honor guests of this special occasion the students who attended this institution when its official name was Mississippi Normal College."

State Teachers College is the only state-owned college in Mississippi whose president is an alumnus of that institution. President George College with the class of 1923.

Designation of the students of the old Normal College as honor guests for the Homecoming celebration recalls some interesting highlights on the history of the institution. Probably most of the Normal college students will remember S. T. C. as it was when Dr. George entered on September 17, 1915. They will remember with affection "Uncle Britt," the old colored man who hauled trunks from the railway station with his "hoss and wagon." Many of them will recall his wife, "Aunt Hattie," who felt that it was her responsibility to give advice to all the young women students, and who, in despair, one day remarked: "I'd jest as soon try to go to Heben in a wheelbar" as to try to do anything with this younger generation.

These Normal College students will picture the campus as it was in these days: a pea patch where the beautiful auditorium now stands, not a stump stumps scattered over the grounds; a dumpground for tin cans where the lake and lovely sunken garden now elicit admiration from all visitors; muddy little paths where the concrete walks now are; a covered plank walk leading from the street car station (now the Memorial Hall) to the old frame dining hall. There were no flowers, no shrubbery, no beautiful trees. The present Demonstration School building with its beautiful auditorium, had not been constructed.

Events for Homecoming Day include: the buffet luncheon in the dining hall at twelve noon; the football game with Louisiana Normal at 2:30; a dance that night (dancing was a shipping offense in the Normal College days) in the dining hall. Plans are under way to make this a Red Letter Day for everyone who returns to the campus on Homecoming Day.

Every former S. T. C. student living in Hancock county is cordially invited to be at State Teachers College on November 13.

HUNTER LOST IN SWAMP

Frank Hobbs, Son of Police Chief, Lost in Devil's Swap Over 24 Hours.

Frank Hobbs, son of City Chief of Police William Hobbs of Bay St. Louis, while out hunting Tuesday morning with his father and William Carbonette, became detached from the latter while hunting in Devil's Swamp off Pearlington, and was lost in the thickets until shortly after that time Wednesday morning.

After an immediate search had failed to locate the young man by his companions the news of what had happened was made known to Bay St. Louis and at once assistance was rushed to the scene of the swamps and an all day and all night search followed.

Hobbs was found the next morning by Frank Ellis, of Bay St. Louis, one of the members of the searching party, when the two came into contact.

"I walked all night in an attempt to find by chance the right direction out, but the further time went on the less I seemed to know just where I was. I swam several times over bayou or creek waters, possibly the same waters as I must have been traveling in circles or contrain directions.

"Finally, I met with a belled steer and followed the animal, well knowing the animal sense of direction. I was exhausted beyond seeming endurance, but on I went, realizing the danger of being lost over a long period and well knowing the perils I would encounter not only from exhaustion but from lack of food.

"Finally, I came to a place where Mr. Ellis and myself met and my rescue was accomplished.

"After I realized I was separated from my party and finding them again seemed hopeless I fired my gun several times and again later repeatedly until I was out of ammunition. I could hear the sound of their gun signals but served me in vain. I was lost in the thicket of Devil's Swamp and that was all there was to it.

"I am grateful to friends and others who were so prompt to join in the search and to come to my rescue. It is not at all a pleasant sensation to feel lost as I was. The situation was serious and especially after I had spent a whole night in aimless and unsuccessful groping." The young man, his mother told The Echo, was none the worse for the experience of being wet and exposed. To the elements all night, that with the attention he was receiving she thought that nothing more than a cold could result. However, Mrs. Hobbs said, we do not forget the possibility of pneumonia.

When the news of his rescue was received in Bay St. Louis Wednesday morning it was announced by unusual blasts from the city's fire alarm siren.

HANCOCK ELECTRIC PROJECT

Speeds Along, According to Supt. Carl Vickers' Reports—Meeting Held.

Carl B. Vickers, rural electrification project superintendent, reports meetings have been held recently in various communities in Hancock and Pearl River counties for the purpose of signing members who are anxious to be among the first to receive the rural electric power.

Members of the association were advised to wire their homes, using the very latest wiring methods in order to guard against overloading current and faulty operation from use of electric appliances.

J. A. Bozeman, county agent for Hancock county, B. C. Cox and W. Stewart of Pearl River county, have rendered every assistance possible in helping to speed the project, reports Supt. Vickers, and he reports that this help and with help of others, all fully co-operating, will make it possible to turn on the power in some sections far sooner than was originally expected.

Residents of the rural communities are enthusiastic over the prospects of electric current in their homes and on their farms and that it is promised for the immediate future.

Mrs. Fournier read part of the report, the financial statement, and her comment from time to time was illuminating and told of remarkable progress and accomplishment. At the conclusion Mrs. Craft, superintendent was praised for her untiring and unusual work, a tribute merited and worthily bestowed.

Work on the spacious and modern new jail house for the county shows substantial progress.

Construction work on the new Sinclair station head of Court street, on beach front, is fast taking shape. The building will be one of white with green tile trimming.

Success crowned the efforts of the annual Harvest King and Queen Ball given Wednesday evening at St. Stanislaus College, under auspices of S. S. C. Mothers' Club. The harvest ball is an annual institution and each year is presented to the enjoyment and satisfaction of participants and spectators. This year was no exception. The affair was presented a glorious setting, appropriate to the season of golden harvest.

Miss Blanche Wenar, of Bay-Waveland, lovely young daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Wenar and the late Mr. Wenar, was queen, regal in manner and radiant in her queenly robes of gold and long, heavy mantle of gold and royal purple. She wore a crown of brilliant gems and collar of Medici fashion and carried an arm bouquet of yellow and purple chrysanthemums. Her entrance was the signal for prolonged applause from an admiring crowd.

The King, Vlado Ivicevich, was attired in the regulation evening wear. Tall, handsome and attractive in bearing he was a fitting companion to the queenly young lady at his side. He is a popular collegian at St. Stanislaus and was selected by popular acclaim, attesting to his popularity and the favor he enjoys.

For the occasion, St. Stanislaus Gym was profusely yet decorated with marked taste. An arched canopy had been formed of crepe paper festoons in the color of black and contrasting gold. This, it is understood, was the work of collegians and how well it was carried out was self-evident.

Mr. Kenneth W. Pepperdene, chairman of the floor committee, was active and received splendid support of his associates.

The personnel of the court follows: King, Vlado Ivicevich; queen, Miss Blanche Wenar.

There were twenty-two couples, dukes and maids, two heralds, two pages, two train bearers, forming one of the largest courts presented locally.

Maids: Misses Marjorie Heintzen, Barbara Haywood, Bettye Menendez, Betty Gause, Mercedes Fernandez, Margaret Holzbom, Elise McCaleb, Louise French, Barbara Carver, Jane Floyd, Dorothy Slavich, Geraldine Martin, Sheila Rafferty, Bertha Ploue, Mary Helen Stevenson, Frances Woodruff, Marion Ortte, Mary Beth Barksdale, Annabelle Manieri, Marion Chapman, Mildred Cagle.

Heralds—Clara Ann Betzer, Arto Allen.

Pages—Margalo Damborino, Sylvia Ladner.

Train bearers—Patsy Gex, Kay Ford.

Mr. Kenneth W. Pepperdene was chairman of the floor committee, composed of Messrs. R. de Montluzin, Jr., C. J. Gordon, Jos. J. Grevenberg, C. H. Perez, Henry Osmach, Roland Weston, Alde Mauffray, Foster Commagere, Emmett Betzer, Al E. Voight.

St. Stanislaus Band discoursed music for the evening, playing for the triumphal march of the court and later for the dance that followed.

Bro. William, president of the college, delivered a most appropriate address from the stage and thanked the ladies in charge, members of the Mothers' Club and one and all who in any way had contributed to the success of the evening.

Bro. Alexis, vice president, was one of the prime spirits of the evening and assisted generally. Heidt Elliott, local photographer with Coast studios at Gulfport, was the official court photographer and took various scenes and the king and queen as couple and individually.

City Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois was cashier and custodian in chief at the door, assisted.

PASS CHRISTIAN WANTS TO KEEP INDUSTRY.

OUR sister city across the Bay is threatened with the loss of its only large industry and citizens of that place have taken action to save its seafood canning company for its own. "This industry has been closed by its owners," says the Biloxi News, "throwing hundreds out of employment so now the officials and other citizens are now seeking the privileges provided for in Governor White's industrial program laws and want the city to purchase and operate the plant."

"It is a very commendable move and probably more cities in the state would be better off at the present if such action had been taken when an industry was about to leave its midst. It would be a terrible thing for Pass Christian if they lost their lone packing plant. It would mean that most of those who had depended on this plant to give them employment, would have to move elsewhere to earn a livelihood. This can be prevented if the municipality acquires and operates the plant."

"Their plan, if it is carried through will be a noble experiment, worthy of notice and attention by other cities throughout the state. The whole thing will answer the question, 'Can a municipality successfully and profitably operate an industry?'"

"The seafood canning industry is one which requires close watching and good management. It is a treacherous industry for individuals to engage in, much less where there is the danger of politics seeping into its operation. We anxiously await the outcome, hoping that Pass Christian is successful in its venture."

That is a very fine Christmas present the Board of Supervisors of Hancock county is giving the local taxpayer with a 6 1-5 mills reduction with Mississippi cutting the eight-mill levy in half. Ten and one half mills is no mean reduction on the heels of the depression.

THE REASON FOR BUSINESS

THERE are many business men who have lost sight of the basic reason for the existence of business and so we quote, with approval, the recent utterance of William M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, on the subject.

"Money making should be the result, a justifiable result and a necessary one if business is to live," says Mr. Jeffers, "but it is not the reason for its existence. The basic reason . . . is to serve humanity, to supply the needs of the people, to aid in their well-being and their comfort."

When business fails to take into consideration this basic reason, regardless of what profits may occur, business has no excuse for existence. Profits should develop out of service, not out of manipulations, speculations and unfair competitive positions.

Natchez has formally invited the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to include that city in the itinerary when visiting America. It appears the Duchess has relatives in that city. They may be a lever toward acceptance of the invitation that was forwarded to Washington. On the other hand it might prove the opposite.

TROOPS AGAINST A CITIZEN.

GOV. Robert E. Quinn, of the State of Rhode Island, proclaimed martial law at Pawtucket to prevent the operation of a race track, managed by a political opponent.

Judicial proceedings having failed to defeat his adversary, who won a Supreme Court decision the executive of the smallest State in the Union resorted to use of troops to win his fight against a citizen-opponent.

Without knowing very much about the finer points involved in the dispute we feel certain that the use of troops was unjustified. Moreover, when the governor of a state resorts to the militia in a combat with a citizen he presents a serious question to the people of his commonwealth, who must pass judgment upon his act.

The balanced budget will come about when Congress decides not to spend more money than the government collects. The President, remember, does not appropriate funds.

GULFPORT RECEIVES PWA GRANT.

THE Harrison county board of supervisor this week received payment of $16,000 on the grant made by the PWA on the Joseph T. Jones Memorial Park and the Bert Jones Yacht Basin. This was said to be the final amount to be received from the $157,000 grant and all other sources. The improvements are not only a credit to Gulfport but to the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast and we naturally feel quite proud of the accomplishment. This entire section will indirectly benefit.

With the Legislature convening in January and Congress in regular session there will be plenty of newspaper copy for the linotypist, with wastebaskets overflowing.

The Congressional Racket will soon resume publication. It costs millions to print it and most of the addresses and "remarks" printed therein were never delivered.

CREDIT TO WHOM CREDIT IS DUE.

APPEARING in the regular proceedings of the Board of Supervisors for October, officially published in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo, the county tax levy for the 1936-37 year will be noted.

As stated in these columns last week the levy was reduced six and one half mills, and in this was included the care of $65,000 proposed funding bonds of the county.

It will also be noted in the proceedings that any and all assessments raised during the revision session of this summer are rescinded, thus the suspicion that assessment might be raised is put to flight as advancing values will not be necessary to take care of next year's maintenance and disbursements.

The Board of Supervisors has made a remarkable contribution to property owners of Hancock county by a drastic reduction in levy and no advance in assessment. And the county vouches there will be no other assessment nor tax of any kind as that would not be necessary. The finances of the county are in safe and competent hands. And we may expect, we are assured, of further easements whenever possible and commensurate with sane, safe and progressive government.

There is cause for jubilation and congratulation. And as an earnest of appreciation we wish to acknowledge the splendid administrative ability of our representatives at the courthouse. We applaud their efforts. We are grateful for such significant results.

The 18-year-old youth who killed the doctor and his wife and carried both bodies in his car over several States, makes us wonder what kind of people make up the so-called human race.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION FOR TWO COUNTIES.

WE have seen so much anent rural electrification in the newspapers of recent times that somehow the matter with many has come to be accepted as commonplace subject and considered in a vague or matter of course manner.

But when we are informed that the subject of rural electrification is coming home to the people in our own Hancock county and neighboring Pearl River county we cannot but realize its importance and the benefits to come.

That electric current at cheap rate will be available to the people of these counties for industrial and domestic purpose contributes both happiness and value.

The drudgery of the farm will be eliminated to a great extent. The old kerosene light will be relegated and put in the discard with the things that were. Life will carry more meaning, comfort and enjoyment and men and women who possibly today are in a measure discontent will now view life with satisfaction and lasting happiness.

Our friends of Hancock and Pearl River counties cannot overestimate the betterment that rural electrification will create.

It is suggested that someone ought to write a nursery rhyme to warn children that the automobile will get them if they don't watch out.

PUTTING THE CITY ON CASH BASIS.

WITH the sale last week of funding bonds issued by the City of Bay St. Louis to absorb debts obligation, including PWA obligations, etc., we are informed the city henceforth will be on a cash basis and that from month to month all current obligations will be promptly discharged.

This is a fine piece of business. It will be welcomed by all who do business with the city, regardless how much and how little. Our city has gilt-edged credit. This was proven by the fact that a local bank promptly bought the $27,000 issue the moment offered for sale. It speaks for good government and economic trend.

Our city is not without late improvements. The affairs are progressively administered. There is no penny. On the contrary, our administrations is broad and where spending money means for saving the intelligent spending is there. There is no stinting at the expense of improvements and keeping abreast with the times.

Hereafter cash will be the password.

Many a seaside summer romance is beginning to shiver in the cool blasts of the autumn winds.

SUGGESTS 25-CENTS BOOKS.

THE people of the nation, as a whole, do not go in for reading of books. Of course, there are individuals in every section who devour the latest publications, with most of their emphasis upon what the erudite call "trash," but many persons, considered intelligent, scarcely read books at all.

Maybe, it is because, like Hervey Allen says, every writer "has to compete with the movies," but we doubt if book-reading was any more prevalent in the era before the screen engaged the time of families everywhere.

The author of "Anthony Adverse," however, makes a suggestion that might help when he says authors and publisher "should reach the 25-cent crowd not only in what we write but also in the prices for books." It is along the right line because not every family, fighting to make ends meet, can spare $2 or $3 for many books, regardless of how good the contents may be.

FINAL AUTHORITY.

WITH so many speeches made and so many newspaper columns written it is almost inevitable that some speakers and some writers, in their zeal, forget to depend entirely upon facts and reason in making their appeals.

Those who strive to arouse emotion, who seek to stir prejudice and who unjustly sway public sentiment are a menace to the well-being of the people. They mislead the foolish and thwart the wise.

So far as we have been able to observe there is no monopoly of wisdom to be witnessed in any individual. Consequently, with rare exceptions, there is no person who knows it all and is thus entitled to speak with final authority upon any subject.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

BILBO FOR BARKLEY.

(Jackson (Miss.) Daily News.

SENATOR Theo G. Bilbo, in his one hour and thirty minute address at the State Fair—quite too long for anybody to talk on any subject—predicted that Senator Alban Barkley, Kentucky, new Senate majority leader, will be the 1940 nominee of the Democratic Party for President.

As things are now going, it might as well be "Barking" Barkley as anybody else. Democracy at present is spit as wide open as the gown of a strip tease dancer with the zipper in a hopeless tangle. We are in a plight even worse than we were in 1924, when John W. Davis was nominated, and almost as bad as we were in 1928 when we picked Al Smith.

As for Barkley, he is just a commonplace, timeserving, bootlicking politician, devoid of qualities of leadership, and his chief asset is a roaring voice. Might as well put "Queenie," the Democratic female donkey, in the White House.

Of course the Senate Majority leader thinks he would have the support of the administration for the nomination. Evidently he hasn't read much history. Roosevelt has a habit of double-crossing his friends.

Three years ago Phyllis Kennedy, who played the maid in "Stage Door," was in an accident in which her back was broken. She was told by doctors that she would never walk again. However, she has recently been given a new radio contract and a good part in "Radio Revels of 1938."

Frances Dee says that she is thru with making all color pictures. She thinks she looks better in black and white.

$85,000 was spent on making "The Birth of a Nation," and it grossed about $12,000,000. No other picture has ever made as much.

Two of the top dancers in Hollywood are dancing down stairways made of huge drums in their current productions. They are Fred Astaire and Eleanor Powell, and charges of thievery are being heard.

When Ben Blue first went to Hollywood, he offered to sell his dance routine which he later danced with Gracie Allen and George Burns in "College Holiday" to the studio for $10,000. When they finally decided to meet his price, Blue offered to give them the routine for the part in the picture. It proved to be a lucky gamble.

Ginger Rogers has made such a hit in "Stage Door," that one camera man suggested that she throw away her dancing shoes.

Hope Hampton's first talking picture is scheduled to start production this month. It is to be called "She Shall Have Music," and Miss Hampton has an important singing role.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated. CARDUI, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

"SOULS AT SEA" SCORES SMASH DRAMATIC HIT

Gary Cooper, George Raft, And Frances Dee in Excellent Cast—At A. & G. Sunday-Monday.

A trial of a sea captain which electrified the world some ninety years ago is powerfully and brilliantly brought back to life in the epic motion picture "Souls at Sea," at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Played by an excellent cast headed by Gary Cooper, George Raft and Frances Dee, "Souls at Sea" is the story of "Nugget" Taylor, an ex-slave trader, played by Cooper, who happened to be returning from England to the United States on the brigantine "William Brown." In mid-Atlantic the "William Brown" was killed and shortly later the vessel caught fire. Because of this rank, Taylor took command of the vessel.

Realizing that there wasn't enough life boats to take care of all the passengers, Taylor held one of the weirdest trials ever held on land or sea. He ordered the entire ship's company and passenger list to the quarter deck and decided who should be permitted to escape in the life boats and who was to remain behind and go to the bottom with the ship. He included himself among those to go to the lifeboats, not, he swore to the court later, because of any cowardice, but inasmuch as because he was the only seaman among the survivors and therefore the only man who could bring the lifeboat's through safely.

The doughty captain brought the frail craft in his charge through safely—only to stand charges of manslaughter at sea when he arrived on land. There followed the famous trial which is now recognized as one of the most surprising in the annals of the sea.

"Nugget's" sweetheart, played by lovely Miss Dee, was one of the passengers aboard the "William Brown," and testified against her sweetheart because he had condemned her brother, a deserter from the British Navy, to the bottom of the ill-starred vessel. The outcome of this strange trial is as amazing as the story itself, true though it be. Suffice it to say that the whole goes to make up one of the most satisfying motion pictures this reviewer has ever seen.

"Souls at Sea" was directed by Henry Hathaway.

"Souls at Sea" is one of those pictures which you simply must see!

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

THE selection of a pudding to be served at the close of a meal must depend on what has preceded it. If the earlier courses have been light, the meal may be well-rounded out and balanced with a rich pudding. Otherwise serve a lighter and more delicate dessert. Several ways of using sweet potatoes also.

Steamed Chocolate Pudding.

3 tablespoons shortening
2-3 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup milk
2 squares chocolate, melted.
1-4 cups pastry flour.
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt.

Cream the shortening and sugar; add the egg, well-beaten. Stir in the melted chocolate and add alternately the milk and the flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt. Pour into a well greased mold and steam about 1 1/2 hours. Serve with butterscotch, hard sauce or chocolate sauce.

Steamed Fruit Pudding.

1/2 pound seedless raisins
1 pound chopped figs
1/2 cup finely chopped candied citron or orange peel.
1/4 cup of coarsely ground almonds

2 1/2 cups Zwieback crumbs
3-4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
2 beaten eggs
3 tablespoons milk
3 tablespoons molasses

Mix together the figs, raisins, citron, almonds, suet and Zwieback crumbs. Add the sugar, which has been combined with the milk and molasses. Mix thoroughly, pour into a well-greased 2-quart mold and steam for 2 1/2 to 3 hours, or pour into several molds and steam for 1 1/2 hours. Serve with orange sauce or hard sauce.

Prune Puff

1 1/2 cup stewed seeded prunes.
2 tablespoons sugar
2 egg whites
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup nut meats

Whip the eggs and cream together until stiff. Add chopped prunes, sugar and nuts. Mix lightly. Put in a glass dish and chill. Serve with custard sauce.

Parsley—salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Cook the potatoes until tender and mash well. Add the salt, pepper and 3 tablespoons melted fat. When cool enough to handle form into round balls 2 inches in diameter. Sprinkle with chopped bacon and brush with melted butter, brown in an oven 375 degrees for 12 minutes. Garnish with parsley.

Candied Sweet Potatoes

6 medium sweet potatoes
1/4 cup water
1 cup brown sugar

—Mr. Harrison Rees of New Orleans was a visitor to the Bay Sunday.

—Mr. Rees with his mother and sisters, Misses Theo and Eunice and brother John formerly resided at the Bay.

—Because Monday has been declared a holiday in terms of the calendar, Banks of Bay St. Louis will transact no business on All Saints' Day. Patrons and others will be guided accordingly.

—Miss Alice Vivian Evans, who successfully underwent a surgical operation for removal of an ailing appendix the past week-end is shortly expected home from Hotel Dieu, New Orleans. Her condition at all times was most favorable.

—Miss Jane Juden, attending Mississippi Teachers' College at Hattiesburg has been selected a member of the College Weekly, The Student Print, and conducts one of its feature columns—a regular columnist, as it were. Goor for Jane.

—Mrs. Rose Kulter of Lake Charles, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Philo Gaspard, and neices Mrs. Charles Zerr and Miss Geraldine Ames, left during the week for her home, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zerr; Mrs. Gaspard and Miss Ames as far as New Orleans.

—Mrs. W. A. McDonald and Mrs. (Dr.) J. C. Buckley left Wednesday morning overland to Port Gibson, Miss., where they are house guests of the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Gray, former beloved occupants of the local Methodist parsonage. They traveled in Mrs. Buckley's car.

—Mrs. O. J. Hart has returned from a delightful visit with relatives in New Orleans. She was accompanied to the Bay by her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Frisio. Mrs. Frisio is a charming and cultured lady whose attractive personality endears her to a wide circle of friends in whose midst she reigns a social favorite.

—Mrs. H. H. Stoutz of Waveland had as her week-end guests Mrs. H. A. Ferrandau, Mrs. Estelle Navarre and Miss Lillian Ganche of New Orleans. Mrs. Stoutz is a charming hostess at all times, and there is bound to be enjoyment and good times when genial Mrs. Ferrandau is present.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Badon, motored out from New Orleans Sunday and spent the day visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Damborino in Union street, where an informal birthday celebration of their younger daughter, Honorine, was held, and of whom Mr. Badon is god-father.

—Among the interesting visitors to the Bay last Sunday were Mrs. Henry Donneufelder and her daughter, Mrs. Doris Gilman, Miss Martin and Miss Hymel of New Orleans and Miss Danbert of San Antonio, Texas. The Donneufelder family were former residents of the Bay and are pleasantly remembered by many oldtimers.

—Mrs. Paula Jenks had a pleasant visit with her son, Mr. John J. Jenks of New Orleans. He was accompanied by his son, Richard, known to his friends as Dick. He is a replica of his father and is just as eager to know all about everything as his father was when a boy of his age, and was called by his friends as the interrogation point.

—Senator Pat B. Harrison spent part of Monday afternoon in Bay St. Louis and visited the family of his late and former partner, Attorney W. J. Gex. Incidentally he met other friends and received a hearty welcome from every side. He will shortly return to Washington and resume his many and arduous duties—working hard for the people of his State we feel at a great sacrifice to his future health.

—Recently members of the local Rotary Club organized into sections and put on an attendance contest over a period of one month. It was agreed the losing side would treat their more punctual brothers to a shrimp supper. One member on the losing side interposed with this suggested proviso that the winning side supply the beer. Alden Mauffray is captain of the forces giving the supper and a good feast is in prospect some night in the immediate future.

OMISSION OF LINE CHANGED SENSE.

The following paragraph from last week's Echo, in an article under heading, "Court Dismisses Suit Proceedings Proposed Bond Issue," and under a sub-head of "Origin of Proposed Suit," is reproduced as it was originally written. A line failing to cast on the linotype changed the sense to an opposite meaning.

"The citizens declare that the obligations now existing and for which the bonds are to be issued are for general county expenses and not for emergency or unexpected expenditures."

Passing of Mrs. J. D. Blakemore at New Orleans Wednesday

Mrs. Cecelia Craft widow of the late John D. Blakemore, former Bay St. Louis residents for many years, died at her residence, 1127 Philip street, New Orleans, Wednesday evening. The funeral took place from the late residence in New Orleans at 9:30 o'clock, the body conveyed to Bay St. Louis by motor hearse to Cedar Rest cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest in the Blakemore family plot.

Mrs. Blakemore was a native of New Orleans, aged 78 years, 7 months, 7 days.

She was a sister of Mr. Augustus Craft, New Orleans; Senator John Craft, Mobile; and Mrs. Bessie Pique, New Orleans.

Mrs. Blakemore was well and widely known. A lady of culture; well read and traveled. She was the grandmother of the former Miss Cecile Blakemore.

Untimely Passing Of Mrs. Ruth Chauvet Mason, Aged 25 Years.

Mrs. Ruth Chauvet Mason, beloved wife of Milton William Mason, and daughter of Carrie C. Beck, formerly of Bay St. Louis, and Leonce Chauvet, died at New Orleans Saturday night at 10:05 o'clock, leaving an infant, Patricia Ann. In addition to her parents and baby she is survived by two sisters, Dorothy and Adrienne Chauvet.

The deceased was native of New Orleans, aged 25 years, and was well known locally. The circumstances of her passing are particularly sad and the sorrow to her loved ones come doubly.

The funeral took place in New Orleans Monday morning, with services from the church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus; interment Greenwood cemetery.

HANS ROSHER DIES.

Hans Rosher, native Bay St. Louis, aged about 50, died at New Orleans Saturday morning and was buried in that city. He was the husband of the late Victoria Luc, father of Irvine, Dorothy, Hans, Jr., Ada, Josephine and Peggy Rosher. A brother, Gary Rosher, residing in Bay St. Louis, died here last year. He is said to be the last of his family. His mother, Mrs. Rosher-Morris and aunt, Mrs. Ada Barrett resided in Bay St. Louis until the time of their death some years ago.

An Unusual Situation.

"What's your name?"
"Bill Smith, Ma'am."
The question was asked recently at Canton by an interviewer from the Mississippi State Employment Service. A canvass of Madison county laborers was being made to find workers for a new highway project.

"Didn't I interview you yesterday at Ridgeland?" she asked.
"Naw'm," said the applicant in a shaky tone as he began marshalling his negro wits for an emergency. The alert young lady ran through her file and pulled out an application card. She asked Bill the usual questions about his qualifications to hold a job. Every answer checked with the card. Unquestionably he had applied the day before at Ridgeland, under the name of Tobe Brown, and had come up to Canton to apply as Bill Smith on the theory that two applications were better than one.

"Ever hear of Tobe Brown?" the young lady asked.
"Yes'm, yes'm, we're twin brothers!"
"How can Bill Smith and Tobe Brown be twins?"
"Well, you see, ma'am, we has the same mama but different papas."

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY FOR MR. AND MRS. CARRERE.

A NUMBER of close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edouard C. Carrere, residing on Waveland beach boulevard, agreeably surprised them Friday evening, on the eve of October 23, the silver anniversary of their wedding.

Entirely oblivious of the fact friends had "conspired" to surprise them, Mr. and Mrs. Carrere were taken completely unawares. They had finished dinner. Mr. Carrere was about the premises and Mrs. Carrere had gone to a special meeting of the S. S. C. Mothers' Club, at the local college. Mr. Carrere well surprised, subsequently his wife was telephoned to, the message stating that friends from New Orleans en route to other destination had stopped off and were desirous of seeing her ere they left; that they were in a hurry and had only a brief moment to tarry.

Then the couple was presented with a magnificent serving tray, of weight and size, the center appropriately inscribed. The handsome silver gift came from the house of Hausman, silversmiths at New Orleans. The friends gave this handsome gift jointly. Its massiveness and size were only exceeded by its beauty.

The following evening the same friends and a few others assembled again in surprise visit at the hospitable home where Mr. and Mrs. Carrere then held an informal reception. Repeated toasts were drunk to with champagne of rare vintage and in copious quantity.

Flowers in profusion and of colorful and delicate fragrance filled the reception hall, all presentations that came during the day from friends and numbered among other remembrances.

During the morning hour a silver wedding anniversary nuptial mass was celebrated at the church of St. Claire, the Rev. M. J. Costello, popular and beloved pastor, celebrating. The silver anniversary bride carried a bouquet of white carnations, the whole, bordered with tuberoses, held together with silver binding, fashioned as an old-fashioned bouquet, a veritable conceit of the florists' art.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrere are widely known both in New Orleans and this section of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, socially popular and prominent as well as in general circles. They number their friends well nigh without number. And many congratulatory messages by wire, messenger and in person contributed to the celebration of an unforgettable day.

They are parents of two splendid types of young people, a son and daughter—Edouard C. Carrere, a colleague of St. Stanislaus; Miss Louise Carrere, at present visiting in Wisconsin for the early social season.

HALLOWEEN PARTY REMINISCENT OF DAYS OF OTHER TIME.

Miss L. C. Del Bondio will entertain friends at her home, Blue Heaven, on Pass Christian beach, Sunday—All Halloween, at a card party. Quinine will be the party inasmuch only "500" card players will number the guests, reminiscent of other days that preceded "auction" and "contract." Proverbial of Miss Del Bondio's hospitality it promises a most pleasant evening to the friends that will be present.

Rally Day Program Pearl River College, Poplarville, Nov. 4.

GOV. LANDON SEVERE IN CRITICISM OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND POWER

Says "He Is Not the Man Elected in 1932—Power Feeds On Power Just As It Did in the Days of Julius Caesar."

Topeka, Kansas, Oct. 19.—Breaking his silence of nearly a year on national affairs, Alfred M. Landon, criticized sharply tonight the "failure" of President Roosevelt "to follow our constitutional method of government and his failure as an administrator."

Speaking to a nation wide radio audience from his office here, the 1936 presidential nominee appealed to the 17,000,000 who voted the Republican ticket last fall and the "millions of others who are now opposed to the policies of the national administration" to shut off "too much power" for the president.

Emphasizing his remarks with waving clencher fists as he sat at his desk before the microphone, Landon described President Roosevelt as a "changed man."

"He is not the man who was elected in 1932. It is apparent that Mr. Roosevelt is going through the same process that transpired in the life of every man in history who was given too much power," Landon said, waving his fists above his head.

"Power feeds on power—today just as it did in the days of Julius Caesar."

The titular head of the Republican party made no reference to proposed plans for his party, dealing entirely with the Roosevelt administration and calling for "workable legislation" by constitutional methods.

He said Roosevelt "wasted practically the entire session of the Congress of 1937 fighting for more power for himself" while important legislation waited. And now, in the call for a special session, he added that the president "first, of course, seeks for more power."

He lumped the NRA and proposed substitutes, the social security act, relief and taxes among measures which he said were failures for lack of adherence to "constitutional methods."
